HARRY S. WEISSINGER, the retired millionaire tobacco manufacturer, of Louisville, is said to be a candidate for Blackburn's seat in the Senate. It strikes the BULLETIN that there are enough millionaires in the Senate already.

The official count of the vote in this judicial district fixes Judge Harbeson's majority at eighty-eight. The large vote he received in this and his home county saved him from defeat. Had Mason and Fleming failed to rally to his support so loyally and enthusiastically his opponent would have won easily. While Judge Harbeson's many friends are rejoicing over his victory, they sincerely regret the defeat of his genial and handsome running mate, Tom Slattery, for Commonweath's Attorney. Tom deserved better at the hands of the Democrats of the district, and especially of this county. Some people are at a loss to account for his running behind in Mason, but this was largely brought about by a false report quietly circulated by Republicans during the closing days of the campaign. While defeated, Tom should not be discouraged. May something even better than the Commonwealth's Attorneyship be in store for him.

Harrison County gave Beckham 1,150 majority.

Danville voted a $20,000 bond issue this week to improve her water-works. A new dam will be built and a fine new filtering apparatus purchased which will have a capacity of 500,000 gallons per day. If Danville can afford to put in a filtering apparatus, Maysville surely can.

HARBESON'S MAJORITY.

The Official Count Made Friday Fixes it at Eighty-Eight.

The official count of the returns from this week's election was made Friday. Master Commissioner Taylor received telegraph and telephone messages during the afternoon from Bracken, Fleming, Lewis and Greenup, giving the result as to the race for Circuit Judge. The official count in Mason increased Judge Harbeson's majority to 88. Here is the official result in the district:

TRAVELING MAN'S LAMENT.

A Commercial Tourist From Maysville Drops Into Rhyme in Telling of His Trip Through Texas.

PINE BLUFF, ARK., Oct. 31, 1903.—One would hardly imagine the hospitality of the people of Texas and Louisiana. I have spent the last two weeks of my trip in this country where the people are alarmed about the yellow fever. As I went from town to town I found that committees had been appointed and in uniform stood at the depots ready to receive me, escort me up town and introduce me to the health officers, doctors and other prominent citizens. They all seemed very much interested in my health and my trip; asked the news from the different towns, and even looked at my mileage book to see where I had been.

If you want to wish you hadn't—go to Texas. We traveling men have heard enough to vex us—Of bad crops, the boll weevil, and prohibition—It's enough to ruin the sweetest disposition.

If you wish to get an order
Stay above the Texas border
Till she gets herself into a good condition.
Now the yellow fever scare
Gives a fellow the night-mare
And takes away the whole of his ambition.
Don't keep pounding
Where is sounding
All the stories we have heard.
Just change your route
And go about
Your work without a word.
You should not write,
It will excite
The man that's at the head.
He will not pause
To find the cause
Of all that you have said.
He will write you a long letter
Asking why you don't do better
In that wonderful old Texas down below.
Then a route list he will send you,
You'll have nothing to defend you,
In the troubles down in Texas you must go.
I'm afraid of yellow fever,
And I bear the word receiver
In connection with the business of the land.
Please do not be slow in learning.
Fellow travelers, I'm returning
With good business up-to-date all safe in hand.
I have left the State of Texas,
There's too much there to perplex us,
And in better fields I feel I'm sure to go.
Can't help what the horses tell us,
Glad to know they can't compel us,
I am leaving 'cause I think it's better so.
I am bound for old Kentucky,
And I think I'm mighty lucky
To escape the quarantine down here below.
I'm coming home because I think it better so.
YOUR TRAVELING FRIEND FROM MAYSVILLE.

WHO OWNS THE STREETS?

Important Decision By An Ohio Court on This Subject—Property Holders' Rights.

Political discussions of the question, "Who owns the streets?" are not at all infrequent in this day of agitation of the municipalization of anything that may use the public thoroughfares; but judicial determination of the matter is not a matter of every-day chronicling. A recent decision by Judge Bigger of the Common Pleas court of Franklin County, however, has an important bearing on the matter, and its ultimate determination by the higher courts will be awaited with even greater interest. Suit was brought by a Columbus property owner to interfere with the laying of natural gas pipes under the sidewalk in front of his premises. The action was the result of the forcible resistance which he made to the tearing up of the sidewalk, the company seeking the courts for an injunction restraining him from the work. The court refused to grant the injunction, holding that the company had no right to lay its mains anywhere in the streets, except with the consent of the abutting property owners. This seems a reaffirmation of the old principle that the property owner owns to the center of the street, subject only to the right of the public to travel over the streets.

In commenting upon the decision and pointing out its importance, if it be sustained by the highest court of the State, the Columbus Dispatch says:

"A mere franchise will not be sufficient for a gas company or any other kind of company seeking to use the streets beneath the surface, to proceed to tear up street or sidewalk in the installation of their service. It puts an end to the theory that the city owns the streets for any other purpose whatever than that of public travel, and guarantees to the abutting property owners all the rights of ownership which they possess, save as to the rights of the public to travel. It means that the city can not give away these rights and that a franchise covers only the city's interest in the streets, not the property owners' rights."

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Hundreds of Maysville Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Maysville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Maysville reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mr. C. L. Hubbard, dairyman, of 325 West Third street, says: "I have the greatest faith in Doan's Kidney Pills. The use of less than one box ended a disturbed condition on the kidneys and an inflammation of the bladder. After some time it returned but in a lesser degree and I procured another box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store. Use of it substantiated the opinion I had already formed of this effective preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foeter-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no substitute.

Funeral of the Late Joseph F. Perrie. The funeral of the late Joseph F. Perrie will take place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the family residence on East Third street, Rev. R. E. Moss officiating. Interment in the Maysville Cemetery.

FINE SHEEP KILLED.

Twenty-two Belonging to Mr. John B. Peters Destroyed by Dogs Thursday Night.

Mr. John B. Peters, living near Bernard, had twenty-two fine sheep killed by dogs sometime Thursday night.

These sheep were finely bred and were valued at $8 or $9 a head, making Mr. Peters' loss from $150 to $200.

In Ohio and some other States there is a tax on dogs to provide a fund to pay for such losses as above, but the Kentucky Legislature has failed to enact such a law, and Mr. Peters will not get anything for his sheep unless he can recover damages from the owner or owners of the dogs.

WORK TO BEGIN SOON

On the C. and O. R. Railroad Between Ripley and Aberdeen—Then Comes the Bridge Over the Ohio River.

[Aberdeen Greta Green]

The surveying corps of the O. R. and C. Railroad are now at work between Ripley and Aberdeen and will, in the next ten days, have the route between the two towns completed. Construction will begin between the above points about the first of December and by next spring Aberdeen will have a sure enough railroad, not only one, but, as time grows apace, the traction line, which is coming up the north bank of the Ohio, forming the connecting link between Cincinnati and Portsmouth, will reach here.

The building of the road makes a bridge across the Ohio at this point inevitable, making the O. R. and C. the direct north branch of the L. and N. As the Greta said, years ago, this is undoubtedly the shortest route obtainable between North and South, passing through the best and most fertile country on earth and tapping the great inexhaustible coal fields of Kentucky. Indeed, the prospects for the greatest and most lasting boom for all this section of country is very brilliant and a foregone conclusion. It is an old adage that "time and opportunity strike all people," and it is generally true of place and location.

Aberdeen and Maysville have to these many years been enjoying a Rip Van Winkle sleep. Their time and opportunity has now come and they will shake off the old legarthic sleep, wake up and be somebody. The coming of the railroad means new faces, hustling business men, who will wake up our old fogies or else bury them out of sight. There will be more capital and everything will tend to show we are still in the world. A new and bright future is upon the eve of dawning on us. Let us prove worthy of the situation and be in the front ranks. Wake up, shake up and let the world know that you still live.

The O. R. and C. bridge across Straight was finished Tuesday evening and the track tayers are proceeding toward Ripley. It is given out that the track can be laid at a rate of one-half mile per day. As the grading is now nearly completed it looks as though the completion of this part of the road is in sight. The graders worked and another switch was built at the stone crusher on the Nye farm Sunday. Several self-dumping cars have been received and the ballast is being hauled on the road-bed at the rate of ten cars a day. Five new box cars were received last week, a heavy freight engine is expected to arrive at any time, while three handsome new passenger coaches are nearing completion and will be shipped in few days. On the road bed between here and Sardinia the grading is being done very rapidly. The contractor states it is to be finished in thirty days. It is pronounced by those who have gone over it as one of the finest road-beds to be seen. Already four cars of steel rails have arrived for this part of the road.

It has been suggested that with the opening of the road between here and Ripley celebrations be held in both towns. The idea meets the approval of everybody and should be taken in hand immediately.

Farmers, attention!! We offer 25c. (in trade) per dozen for fresh eggs, during next week. Highest price for all products. Langdon-Creasy Co., cut rate cash grocers.

In the Carlisle city election the water works bonds for $25,000 and the fire engine bonds for $5,000 were voted by required two-thirds. In Nicholas County the proposition to levy a 15c. tax to extend the term of public schools was defeated.

The entertainment given at the Christian Church Thursday night under the auspices of two of the Sunday school classes—Miss Sallie Wood's and Miss Greenwood's—was a very enjoyable affair. The program as heretofore published was rendered, with one or two slight changes. Among the musical numbers was Mrs. Katherine Tabb-Craven's beautiful new song. It was sung by Dr. Smoot. The songs by the Misses Tolle, Miss Styles, Miss Emma Luman, Dr. Smoot and Miss Blaine were all sweetly rendered. The receipts were about $25.

At the First Methodist E. Church, South, Rev. Dr. J. R. Deering, the Presiding Elder, will hold his first quarterly meeting Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, including which, the sacrament will be administered. Dr. Deering is a very fine preacher and worthy the attention of the very large congregation which will doubtless hear him. He will preach at night for the Second Church in East Maysville. At the First M. E. Church, South, there will be no service Sunday night, in order that the congregation may hear Judge Cochran's Sunday school address on the Map of Palestine.

THE PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

The Funds Made Available Exceeds One Million Dollars.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 7.—The finance committee of the Lewis and Clark exposition reports that the funds made available for the exposition up to November exceed one million dollars. An effort will be made to secure from the next national congress an appropriation of $2,500,000. Of the state appropriations that of Minnesota is the largest, being $70,000. Eight other states have contributed various sums from $10,000 upward, many more states have promised to make appropriations and some of those already contributing have agreed to double their appropriations. Vote As You Please

W. H. Means asks his friends to re-elect him Assistant Superintendent for the purchase of Boots and Shoes. I am sure since my election to this office I have saved the voters and their families $10,000 on the shoes I have bought for them. My platform is solid sole leather. Everybody must get on if they want dry feet this winter. My object in wanting this office is for the money there is in it. My deputies will be Jim Egnew and Billy Cooper. All at

Dan Cohen's Great Western Shoe Store!

W. H. MEANS, Manager.

P. S.—If you want money before you vote, see me.
